

We press for the facts. But we're pressed for funding.

Subscribe today to support the oldest student newspaper in Southern California.

How it works

Our print edition publishes Friday mornings during the academic year except for holidays and exam weeks, and is sent to print subscribers via first class mail for quick and safe delivery.

Local readers can always enjoy free distribution across the 7C campuses, and digital access is free and complete. (Except for the crossword!)

Your support lets us keep doing our jobs, not buy TSL T-shirts. All revenue earned from subscriptions is put directly back into our organization's needs, from printing weekly and maintaining multimedia equipment to providing professional development, workshops, and conferences for our mostly-volunteer staff.
